Life Lines Salutes: People of Hope, Ark.

Editor's Note: The following is a full-page commentary in Life Lines dated February 12, distributed nationally by Life Lines Foundation, Inc., 620 Eleventh St., N.W., Washington 1, D.C., which also operates an extensive radio network by transcription. The editor and publisher of Hope Star was interviewed by telephone from Washington earlier this month. This reprint incorporates three minor corrections in the nationally-distributed copy, nearly always required after a telephone exchange. Its editorial flag says: "Life Lines is chartered as a non-profit, non-denominational, religious-patriotic organization and is dedicated to the preservation of American Freedoms through an informed public."

When it comes to the public debt of the United States, the people of Hope, Arkansas raise their eyebrows, and a knowing glint comes into their eyes.

There was that matter of federal aid for street paving which they voted down last October. Feeling was strong enough on this matter to lap over on a federal urban renewal proposal. It, too, got short shrift from Hope.

The next federal plan sought a new postoffice, which the federal government wants to build in Hope. This time the people of Hope say that their town has been misnamed, because all hope of doing their part in reducing the national debt, by refusing the postoffice, seems lost. They will have a new postoffice whether they want it or not.

Alex H. Washburn, Editor of the Hope Star wrote an editorial on January 3rd about the postoffice. The headline above the front page editorial read: "Economic begins with a Grass Roots 'NO!' to 'Grants' That Are Only a Piece of Debt."

Why do the people of Hope want to refuse a new postoffice? They felt that $500,000 is too much for a new postoffice. Besides, as Editor Washburn said, "The present postoffice is the finest building in town."

Washburn figured that his newspaper couldn't carry the fight alone, so he hired a crew — at the personal cost of $119 — to pass petitions asking that the postoffice not be built.

By January 14, the petition had 1,255 signatures a respectable number considering that 2,500 votes were cast in the last primary election.

About this time, Hope was told that the General Services Administration had moved into the picture with a proposal for a postoffice location outside the business district. Due to opposition, the GSA changed its mind and picked another location in the business district.

A telegram from Hope Congressman Oren Harris quoted the GSA as saying that the last site designation was final.

Washburn said that the petitions were abruptly brushed aside at this point and that Hope has been literally "cut off from appeal to its Congressman" by fast moving bureaucracy.

He told LIFE LINE that the GSA said the postoffice was "planned a year ago and that our objections are too late."

Asked if he felt that the Post-office Department had a right to pick the kind of building best suited to the demands of mail handling, Washburn said he felt that such was the prerogative of the Postoffice Department.

"But the people here are angry. They are debt conscious, yet their appeals are for nothing because the government is going to force this through."

Washburn says he was told that the postoffice was being replaced under the so-called "50-year plan" which automatically calls for replacement after a postoffice has stood for 50 years.

In an editorial, the 64-year-old editor said: "But the government has an obligation much greater than the 50-year rule of bureaucrats. The obligation is to keep itself solvent."

Another reason for the furor is that the county has lost 31 per cent of its population since 1912 when the present postoffice was built.

"And to say Hope needs it, in view of the population decline in our county, is absurd," Washburn says.

The final word, it seems, came in the telegram from Representative Harris who said he had been advised that the GSA would proceed immediately with site acquisition, and construction.

Daily, Washburn can see the old postoffice from his newspaper office across the street (alley). It reminds him that he lost on the postoffice fight, but that Hope won out on the other two issues — Federal aid for paving and housing.

He describes Hope's fight as "a Custer's Last Stand, at the spending level back home."

LIFE LINE salutes Editor Washburn and the alert citizenry of Hope, Arkansas. Pardon the metaphor, but we hope they aren't the last of the Monicans.

Letters to Editor

Editor The Star: I have just read the article "The People of Hope, Arkansas," in Life Lines, describing their lost battle against federal bureaucracy concerning the unwanted new post office.

Would that more towns in the U.S. had the same attitude toward so-called free (taxpayer) money. I salute the people of Hope for their intelligence, patriotism, and self-reliance.

May I offer some suggestions concerning the unwanted post office. Whether or not they will work is difficult to know until tried. If there is another town nearby with a post office, ask the of Hope to use its facilities and boycott the new post office. Ask the local construction firms, building material firms, and labor force not to supply services, materials, or labor when the General Services Administration calls for bids for construction.

I know it may be difficult for management and labor in Hope to refuse a new source of income but I like to think they can be persuaded if approached properly. Ask the local automobile dealers to refuse to supply vehicles for mail deliveries. Perhaps with everyone working together, against the unwanted project, the GSA may finally get the word.

I wish you success in your fight against the loss of one more of your freedoms — the right to decide where, when, and how your post office will be built.

Ed Note: Thanks for your letter, but a newspaper traditionally stands for free and unlimited debate — and against any kind of boycott. I do not admit we have lost this fight. But if we do lose, it will be proof positive that bureaucracy has overwhelmed our duly-elected public officials and the people have lost control over their government. We will have done our level best — but a boycott is unthinkable, regardless what minority groups may believe.

Editor The Star: Thank you for your stand as related in Life Lines.

Union Boycott Continues, Top Talkers Fail

By NEIL GILBRIDE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Efforts of the Labor Department's top troubleshooters to quickly settle a union boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union apparently have failed.

Insistence by labor leaders that at least half the grain be transported in U.S. vessels dashed President Johnson's hopes of an early solution.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor, who was sent here by the President, was to have held a news conference on the wheat dispute Monday night, but it was called off.

Reynolds was to leave today for Daytona Beach on another labor dispute, a strike against the Florida East Coast Railway that has slowed construction of space facilities at Cape Kennedy.

Most of the nation's chief labor leaders are here for the annual meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

AFL-CIO President George Meany told a news conference Monday he had agreed to Johnson's personal appeal to seek a settlement of the boycott. But Meany also said he backed the union stand.

The International Longshoremen's Association hailed the loading of wheat on two foreign ships in New Orleans and one in Houston.

Longshoremen's President Thomas W. Gleason said all wheat shipments to the Soviet Union, even on American vessels, would be tied up unless the administration lives up to an agreement providing for at least 50 per cent shipments in the U.S. vessels.

Reynolds apparently gave up hope of an immediate settlement after round - the - clock sessions with union leaders and frequent telephone conferences with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz in Washington.

Continental Grain Co., which sold $75 million worth of grain to the Soviet Union, says it cannot find enough acceptable U.S. ships to carry half the cargo.

Union officials say this is just an excuse to use cheaper foreign ships, including some that had been blacklisted by the United States for trading with Cuba.

All 29 Cuban Fishermen Ask Freedom

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-nine Cubans asked a court today to free them on grounds a Florida law charging them with fishing illegally is unconstitutional.

The fishermen, whose detention triggered the Guantanamo water crisis, contended through their New York attorneys, "The statute is plainly an attempt by Florida to move into the area of foreign relations." This, they added, is "exclusively a matter of federal control" under the U.S. Constitution.

The motion was filed at arraignment of the Cubans before Judge Thomas Caro in Monroe County Criminal Court by attorneys Leonard Boudin and Michael Standard of New York City.

Discriminatory grounds were cited by the motion which asked quashing of the charges.

According to the argument in the motion, the Florida statute provides that aliens seeking political asylum will be exempt from prosecution although the U.S. Constitution grants equal rights.

Two of the original 38 Cubans taken into custody were given political asylum and were freed.

The fishermen were apprehended by the U.S. Coast Guard at the Dry Tortugas, Florida islands 65 miles west of Key West Feb. 2 and turned over to Florida authorities three days later. U.S. authorities said they found no applicable U.S. law providing penalties.

Sheriffs to Air Registration

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas sheriffs, many of whom double as county collectors, meet Wednesday in Little Rock to decide whether they want the responsibility of registering voters.

As collectors, many of the sheriffs have been responsible for issuing poll tax receipts. A bill headed for a special session of the Legislature would replace the poll tax and would give county tax assessors the chore of registering voters.

Desha County Sheriff Robert Moore, executive secretary of the Arkansas Sheriff's Association, said the sheriff-collectors are divided on whether they want to handle registration.

British, Cyprus Agreed on a Police Plan

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain and Cyprus are reported agreed on principles for a plan to police the turbulent Mediterranean island with an international force while an impartial mediator seeks peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The British-Cypriot plan also calls for a consultative committee of U.N. members.

The two nations reportedly agreed on general terms of a Security Council resolution after the council postponed the start of its debate on the Cyprus crisis until this afternoon.

The resolution would avoid the controversial issue of how the international force should be set up and would merely agree that there should be such a force.

It would also appeal to all countries to respect the territorial integrity of the island, an appeal which Cyprus had planned to propose in a separate resolution.

The council debate, scheduled to start Monday, was postponed after Secretary-General U Thant took a hand in the crisis with peace proposals of his own.

Thant's ideas were handed to representatives of Cyprus, Britain, Turkey, the United States and Greece in a memorandum which dealt with establishment of an international peace force for Cyprus and with machinery for mediating the conflict.

One objective was to find a formula that would be accepted by all parties concerned and thus avoid the risk of a Soviet veto. President Makarios of Cyprus has indicated he would accept no peace force unless it was under control of the Security Council.

Sources close to Thant said he thought agreement might be reached on a force linked to the United Nations but not directly under U.N. command. He was understood to be seeking accord also on an arrangement under which Britain, Turkey, Greece and Cyprus would finance the force.

Thant discussed his views with U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, who had come directly from a meeting with President Johnson in Washington. Ball later conferred with other U.N. diplomats before returning to Washington Monday night.

Negroes Plan Demonstration at Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The Pine Bluff Movement has scheduled a mass demonstration late today at the truck stop cafe where Negro comedian Dick Gregory and white civil rights leader William Hansen were arrested Monday morning.

Rev. Ben Grinage, chairman of the anti-segregationist movement, and a Methodist minister, told about 45 Negro teenagers to come to the organization's headquarters right after school today for a briefing on the demonstration at Ray's Truck Stop Cafe.

Gregory and Hansen, a field secretary for the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee, both pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Monday. They will be tried Feb. 25 for violating a state law which makes it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave a place of business when ordered to do so by the management.

The two remained in jail and Gregory, widely known for his barbs at segregation, said, "I ain't leaving this town until that place (the cafe) is integrated. We might as well fill up the jail."

Grinage, in announcing the demonstration, said "we're going to fill the jail and if we have some people left over we'll go somewhere else."

Gregory, who has made frequent night club and television appearances, addressed a civil rights rally Sunday night in Pine Bluff. He has been arrested in other cities while taking part in demonstrations.

Officer Cuts Castro's Water Line

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP) — Ired by charges that the Guantanamo Naval Base had stolen water from a Cuban pipeline, Rear Adm. John D. Bulkeley issued an order to "cut the damn thing in half."

So while Cuban military guards watched, four Cuban workmen from the base went out Monday and severed the 14-inch line from the Yateras Reservoir.

Until Feb. 6 two million gallons had flowed over the pipeline each day. Then the Cubans turned off the water, but the pipeline stayed in place. Now the base is completely independent of Cuban water supplies.

Broadcasts the past few days over Havana Radio have charged the Americans were stealing water from the pipeline.

The salty admiral said he made the decision to cut the pipeline after Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze asked him whether there was any truth in Cuba's charges.

"I told him we had not chatted or stolen anything," Bulkeley told a news conference. "We haven't accepted and will not accept any water from Cuba."

Tankers are bringing water from the United States until desalination plants can be built over the next year at a cost of $10 million. The first unit of the three-unit plant is scheduled to be in operation in 23 weeks.

5 in Family Killed in Crash

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A family outing and a visit with friends turned into tragedy when the mother and father and three of their eight children were killed in a car-train crash.

Two other children of the Samuel Monroe Bailey family were injured in the crash in the nearby Tucker community Monday night. Three children were at home.

The automobile was carried about 1,800 feet by the train after the crash at the crossing. Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Bailey; Brenda, 16; Gayle, 7, and Kathie, 6.

Two other children in critical condition at a hospital were Betty Ann, 8, and Wayne, 2.

Engineer E.F. Lyons of Plum Branch, S.C., said the automobile pulled on the crossing directly in front of his train.

Frank Sr. to Appear in Kidnap Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With defense attorneys split over a mistrial motion that failed, Frank Sinatra Sr. was expected to move into the spotlight today at the trial of three men accused of kidnaping his son.

The government wants Sinatra to testify about the payment of $240,000 ransom to the alleged abductors.

His 20-year-old son wound up three days of testimony in federal court Monday. The judge told him to stand by for a possible recall to the stand.

Sinatra Sr. nearly lost his day in court Monday when Charles E. Crouch Jr., attorney for defendant Barry Keenan, said an out-of-court interview by another defense lawyer prejudiced the case against Keenan. Crouch asked for a mistrial.

Crouch told newsmen later that the article had created a split between defense attorneys. "From now on, I'm working alone," he said.

The interview which appeared in the Los Angeles Times earlier in the day, also drew the ire of Judge William G. East.

The story quoted Gerald A. Forde, attorney for defendant Joseph Amisler, as saying Keenan told him the kidnap was a publicity stunt carried out on commission from a mysterious stranger named "Wes."

"I was outraged," said the judge, "when I read that headline and doubly outraged when I read the contents of the story."

The headline said: "Defense Says: Kidnap Engineered."

The judge said, however, that if Amisler and the third defendant, John Irwin, 42, later testify to the same facts contained in the articles, he will consider the matter closed. Otherwise, said the judge, he will see later if the stories prejudiced the jurors.

Russia Rejects West Arms Plan

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union today rejected the Western proposals for phased gradual disarmament as unrealistic and said there appeared little likelihood of East-West compromise.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused the Western powers at the 17-nation disarmament conference of "lack of enthusiasm" in discussing Soviet proposals and said the West "does not give us much hope" for progress in the Geneva negotiations.

Arkansas May Have to Alter Two Districts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The man who wrote Arkansas' 1961 Congressional redistricting law, Rep. Raymond Mays of Cleveland County, predicted today that the district boundaries will not be changed except on specific orders from a court.

"The people are pretty well satisfied with our redistricting plan," Mays said. "I don't think the legislature will do anything unless a suit is filed and a court orders it to act."

Arkansas' plan, worked out in advance of the 1961 session by Mays and others, encountered some difficulty before it was finally approved.

The 1961 regular session of the legislature drew up a plan with Arkansas, Jefferson and Lincoln counties in the 1st District.

Petitions were circulated in these counties to refer the act to a popular vote, which meant that all congressmen would have to run at large in 1962. This possibility was avoided by passage of a 1961 special session act moving Arkansas County into the 2nd District and Jefferson and Lincoln counties into the 4th.

In both cases, the counties moved into districts with larger populations, but the move was made at the request of voters in the counties and met no resistance at the legislative level.

The U.S. Supreme Court held Monday that congressional districts within each state should be substantially equal in population, but it did not set any guidelines for equality.

"Our population figures are not as far out of line as those the Supreme Court cited from Georgia," Mays said. The court noted that Georgia's largest district has 823,680 persons while the smallest has 272,154.

If the opinion of Justice John Marshall Harlan was followed, Arkansas might have to alter two of its districts. Harlan said he thought the ruling would be violated in any state where the most populous district contained more than 100,000 above the least populous.

Choice on Bill Up to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson apparently faced the choice today of abandoning wheat-cotton legislation or delaying the start of Senate consideration of the House-passed civil rights bill.

Faced with the republican opposition to the farm measure, Democratic leaders sought a presidential decision on the matter at their weekly White House legislative conference.

Still in the dark on what the President wants most, Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., called the Senate Agriculture Committee into session in an effort to get approval of a measure on which Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has urged speedy action.

As it is shaping up, the bill would offer farmers federal assistance for voluntary compliance with wheat production controls similar to the mandatory program growers rejected last year.

Ellender planned to ask incorporation of the modified version of a cotton program previously approved by the House. This would permit domestic textile mills to buy cotton for the same price foreign purchasers pay for it, about 8 cents a pound below the domestic support price, with subsidies to growers.

Ellender said that unless the bill is passed before plantings start March 1 it will not be effective this year. He said that if the Senate takes up the civil rights bill, no farm measure is likely to be passed this year.

Prodded to Let Baker Firm Bid

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Atwood, president of the North American Aviation Corp., testified today he was prodded to let the Serv-U Corp., a vending machine firm in which Bobby Baker was interested, bid on serving his firm's big defense plants.

Atwood told the Senate Rules Committee that Fred Black Jr., North American's Washington consultant, did the prodding but did not tell of his own financial interest in Serv-U.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority. The committee is investigating whether he engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

The committee disclosed Monday it has served a subpoena on Baker ordering him to make his records available by Wednesday morning or, if he is unwilling to do so, to appear and explain why.

Atwood was the first of three North American officials questioned about why the defense and aerospace firm contracted for vending machine service with Serv-U, in which Baker and Black have been identified as the principal stockholders.

Atwood, who testified that 95 per cent of North American's work is done under government contract, said that sometime in the fall of 1961 Black first spoke to him about a vending machine company in which Baker was interested.

Asked by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., if Black gave any reason why he wanted Serv-U given consideration, Atwood replied that his recollection was that Black had "pushed the merits of the organization."

He said he couldn't recall whether Black said Baker was interested in the company or had a financial interest in it.

Arkansas' Third District has 332,844 persons — 242,521 less than the largest district in the state, the fourth. The First District has 360,183 persons, 215,202 less than the fourth. The Second District has 517,860.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus' legal advisor, William J. Smith, said he found it difficult to believe that the Supreme Court.

"The Supreme Court has said over and over you have to take into consideration economic factors, geography and others, as well as population. No such case has ever been held that way."

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reaction among congressmen indicated support today for the Supreme Court ruling that House members should represent equal numbers of people.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and unsuccessful sponsor for 15 years of a bill calling for equality in congressional districts, said he was "happy about the court's momentous decision."

"It is a great step forward in giving the districts fair, equitable and just representation," Celler said.

Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., said: "This has been long coming. I can't see any fault in it."

Analysts at Republican headquarters said the Republicans probably will gain seats in the House as a result of the high court's decision. But Democratic spokesmen said "the majority party is the Democratic party and it cannot but benefit from any move which attempts to give all citizens as close as is practicable" an equal voice in electing House members.

House leaders from both parties blasted a dissenting opinion by Associate Justice John M. Harlan, who argued that the verdict "casts grave doubt on the constitutionality of the House of Representatives."

Harlan said the ruling "places in jeopardy the seats of almost all the members of the present House of Representatives," because only 37 of the 432 present members were elected from districts that conform with the court's ruling.

"It's pretty far-fetched to intimate that actions by the House might prove to be illegal," said Leslie Arends of Illinois, the assistant Republican leader.

"Of course the House is constitutional," asserted Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma.

The court's decision was by a 6-2 vote with Justice Tom Clark concurring on some points and dissenting on others. The majority opinion was by the court's senior associate justice Hugo M. Black.

He concluded: "While it may not be possible to draw congressional districts with mathematical precision, there is no excuse for ignoring our Constitution's plain objective of making equal representation for equal numbers of people the fundamental goal for the House of Representatives."

The specific case before the high tribunal involved Georgia's 5th District, which includes the Atlanta metropolitan area. It has 823,680 persons compared with only 272,154 in the adjoining, rural 9th District.

"We agree with the District Court that the 1931 Georgia apportionment grossly discriminates against voters in the 5th Congressional District," Black's opinion said. "A single congressman represents from two to three times as many 5th District voters as are represented by each of the congressmen from the other Georgia congressional districts."

The high court returned the case to the District Court for further action.

Bing's Wife Wants a Part in TV Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Kathryn Grant Crosby, Bing's pretty, young wife, wants an acting job now — 3,000 miles from home and husband—she is threatening drastic action if she doesn't get it.

"I'd love to do a 'Breaking Point' episode," she said, "and if they don't get me a part in 'Breaking Point,' I'm going to get on 'Dr. Kildare.'"

This is pretty drastic talk. Bing's company owns and produces "Breaking Point," ABC's psychiatric series, while "Dr. Kildare" is a rival doctor series on another network. Maybe there's a company rule about nepotism.

Kathy Crosby was in New York for three days this week, but so busy talking up her husband's CBS musical special on Saturday night and hunting antique French chairs that she didn't even have time to go to a play.

A hectic schedule is routine for the Texas-born brunette after five years of marriage to Der Bingle. In that time she has borne three children, completed a full nurse's training course at Queen of Angels Hospital, Los Angeles, learned to play golf, run four homes—and even has found time for an occasional television appearance.

Saturday night, as one of Bing's guests, she will make her public singing-dancing debut in a show taped over three months ago.

Kathy says that she "always wanted to be a nurse," but had detoured to a promising film career when she married Bing. She expects to take her state board examinations to become a registered nurse next month, but isn't quite certain how she will be able to use her medical skills.

The summer and winter fashion collections of the top Paris dressmakers are created amid security precautions that would impress our Secret Service and in an atmosphere of hysteria that makes the Beatlemania look like Golden Age picknicks.

George Vicas, NBC's producer of special news programs in Europe, managed to overcome almost insurmountable objections and was allowed to film the entire process in the sewing rooms and salons of couturier Pierre Cardin.

Everyone connected with the NBC project, including technicians who would develop the film, had to sign a pledge of absolute secrecy. Film was labeled falsely and guarded like Fort Knox. When complete, the show was kept in a locked vault.

The whole hysterical business which affects feminine waistlines and hem lengths the civilized world over, will be seen Sunday night.

Dist. Jr. College Petitions Planned

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—A petition campaign has been started at Helena to put a proposed constitutional amendment on the November general election ballot calling for the start of a junior college program in Arkansas.

The Helena-West Helena junior and senior Chambers of Commerce, heading the project, mailed petitions to other chambers throughout the state Wednesday.

Return of the petitions was asked by March 20.

The amendment would call for establishment of districts in which junior colleges could be founded. The districts would be formed only on approval of voters and the colleges would be administered by the districts.

Carlos Smith, chamber education committee chairman, said Arkansas could receive financial aid for the program under the Federal Education Act.

Dream Like N. Hampshire Gop Primary

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is almost a dreamy quality about the campaign for the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, one of the candidates, started criss-crossing New Hampshire this week in below-freezing weather before dawn.

She chatted with one couple in their home by the light of oil-lamps and as the day wore on she talked about fabrics and foxes, advertising and ancestors.

But she never got around to explaining why she's in the race at all except to say she wants to beat the other candidates.

One of them, Philadelphia's Harold E. Stassen, who has had presidential ambitions for years and feels them tugging at him again, started campaigning in New Hampshire last week.

This week a spokesman at Stassen's headquarters in Manchester said: "If you know when he is coming back, you are one up on me."

In his short visit, though, he did promise to "build a major international airport in New Hampshire," if he's elected.

Another candidate, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has made the rounds of the state in search of primary votes, this week was out West trying to drum up interest in himself there.

He and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, also running in New Hampshire's March 10 primary, will oppose each other in the Oregon primary May 15 and California's June 2 primary.

Wednesday in California Goldwater said that state, with 86 votes in the Republican convention next summer, "is far and away the most important primary election state."

This may not seem very flattering to the New Hampshire voters, although it's realistic. They will be able to send only 14 delegates to the convention.

The smiling, handshaking Rockefeller is more jovial than Goldwater with his heavy, dark-rimmed glasses. Rockefeller is spending a lot of time whisking around New Hampshire.

He tried to get Goldwater to debate him. Goldwater wouldn't. Rockefeller has spent a lot of his time finding fault with both Goldwater and President Johnson.

Goldwater spends most of his time criticizing Johnson but hardly ever mentions Rockefeller. Goldwater has been criticized for not shaking hands with all the people who want to shake him.

Recently in New Hampshire two Goldwater aides said polls in two communities showed him leading Rockefeller but two-thirds of those polled were listed as undecided.

"We've got to get this thing off dead center," Rockefeller said.

Even if all four of these publicly acknowledged candidates—Smith, Stassen, Goldwater, Rockefeller—managed to make New Hampshire hum they may still wind up behind two men not acknowledged candidates at all.

The voters could write their names on the ballot: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., American ambassador to South Vietnam.

Lodge has been truly silent but Nixon, even though he says he's not a candidate, sounds like one in his speeches outside New Hampshire.

REA Purchases Private Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rural electric power systems financed by the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) purchased $237.5 million worth of electrical power from private and public power sources during the year ended June 30, 1963.

The REA said this was about 10 per cent more than during the preceding 12-month period. Energy purchased by the rural electric systems totaled 37.4 billion kilowatt-hours, up 4 billion from the previous 12-month period.

One Killed, 12 Hurt in Wreck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Negro woman was killed and 12 persons were injured Sunday night in a two-car head-on collision eight miles east of El Dorado on state Highway 15.

The death of Mrs. John C. Ford, 33, of Urbana (Union County) brought Arkansas' violent death toll for the week ended at midnight Sunday to 12.

Nine of the persons injured in the wreck were hospitalized in El Dorado. They included Mrs. Ford's 36-year-old husband and four of the Fords' children. All were reported in satisfactory condition today.

The driver of the other car, W. E. Garrett, 47, of near El Dorado, and his 41-year-old wife and two of their five children were admitted to a hospital. The other three Garrett children were treated and released.

Ten persons died in traffic accidents in Arkansas last week, one died in an accidental shooting and one died from injuries received earlier in an oil field accident.

Prostitute on Trial for Life

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Admitted prostitute Carolyn Ann Lima goes on trial for her life a second time today for the gun-torch slaying of Houston realtor Fred A. Tones.

Defense lawyer Clyde Woody said he would quickly present a motion questioning the jurisdiction of the court. He said Miss Lima, who will be 21 Feb. 23, should have been handled as a juvenile because she was 17 at the time of the 1961 slaying.

Dist. Atty. Frank Briscoe, who will prosecute the case, said Miss Lima turned 18 before her arrest and had to be treated as an adult.

Miss Lima received a stay four hours before she was due to be executed the morning of last March 30. She was granted a new trial by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court held she and Leslie Douglas Ashley, 24, a female impersonator from Hot Springs, Ark., should be given separate new trials, because Briscoe suppressed evidence.

Ashley also was convicted and sentenced to die at the same time for the slaying of Tones.

Tones was shot to death during a sex party in his office. The defendants were arrested several days later in New York.

3 Die in Crash of Helicopter

HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP)—An Army helicopter crashed and burned at nearby Ft. Stewart Sunday, killing three occupants and injuring another.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Rules State Can Regulate Pharmacies

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court held today that the state has a right to regulate the practice of pharmacy and that the state Board of Pharmacy was within its power when it denied a 1963 license to Maurice Harvey, owner of the Waldron Drug Store at Waldron.

The ruling affirmed Pulaski Circuit Court, which had upheld the board action.

Harvey's permit to operate a drug store was revoked because he failed to comply with a 1955 law requiring employment of a registered pharmacist for at least 40 hours each week in a drug store operated by a licensed practical druggist, which Harvey is.

Harvey contended in his appeal that the 1955 act was unconstitutional and that he had operated his drug store for 30 years and was capable of filling prescriptions. He said the act was discriminatory and favored the few licensed pharmacists.

The court said an 1891 act, superseded by the 1955 act, required the presence of a registered pharmacist in all drug stores at all times, and the 1955 act amounted to an easing of the regulation.

The court reversed and remanded a Miller Circuit Court case in which the trial judge held that a road grader operator and gravel truck driver were equally negligent in a collision involving their vehicles.

George Moorehead was driving the grader and Henry Ellis Bearden, the gravel truck at the time of the collision May 1, 1962, on the dusty Boyd Road near Texarkana. There were many gravel trucks operating on the road and the court said Bearden and the other drivers knew the grader also was working there.

But the trial court said in holding Moorehead negligent that he had violated the "rules of the road" by operating the grader on the wrong side of the road. The Supreme Court said the rules of the road do not apply to equipment working on the roads and that the trial court should take another look at the case and see how strongly it considered Moorehead's violation in assessing his negligence.

WHY ARE OTHER WOMEN COOL TO GORGEOUS SISTER?

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I have an older sister who is absolutely gorgeous. She's always had a lot of difficulty making and keeping women friends, and she blames it on the fact that they resent her beauty. But sometimes I wonder if her personality isn't at fault in some way. Is her loneliness my sister's wifolaut, or are the cards really stacked against great beauties? —Sis

Dear Sis: If you were to ask a large sampling of women whom they would rather have as a next-door neighbor, Loretta Young or sa Zsa Gabor, I'll bet that 9 out of 10 would vote for Loretta.

Yet, if you stop and think about it, really these two glamorous stars are equally beautiful. But somehow Loretta manages to project herself as more of a woman's woman. She appears charming, but not especially seductive or flirty.

sa Zsa, on the other hand, seems to be strictly a man's girl. She gives the impression that if she were your neighbor, you'd be wise to lock up your husband, your father-in-law and possibly your 10-year-old son as well—if the boy's a big, hearty specimen.

Now, for all I know about the private lives of these two stunners, Zsa sa may actually be a very sweet girl, and Loretta may be a dangerous femme fatale. I don't know either woman. I'm talking only about the public image that each of them has created. But the contrast of these public images, whether they represent the real inner woman, or merely an overcoating, does make a substantial point. Attitude counts far more than the presence or absence of curves and curls.

Now, it's true that sometimes the defensive. Ordinary mortals may have a tendency to regard her as guilty until proved innocent. But once she's made it perfectly clear that she's not out to corner the market on men, a dazzling damsel needn't be too handicapped in forming friendships.

Most of us have a tendency not to even notice people's features any more. After awhile, a great beauty's good friends won't even be aware that she may be hiding their light under her bushel of charms unless, of course, she keeps reminding them. The secret of being popular with women, despite an unusual degree of natural endowment, lies in being able to forget one's good looks. Your sister's social difficulties probably lie less with her unusual beauty than with the poor use she makes of it.

Here's a list of questions which your sister and all pretty chicks who have found themselves locked out of the hen-house once too often might ask themselves.

Do you grin and bear uncomfortable shoes because they do so much for your legs?

Do you always remember to Richards Sunday.

Mrs. Nell Oliver of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., formerly of Hope, visited friends in Hope this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moers returned home this weekend from a 5-week sales trip for Kippsch and Associates which took them along the west coast, plus Nevada, Arizona, and Texas.

Attending the funeral Sunday for Mrs. J. W. Patterson were the following out-of-town relatives and friends: her son, J. W. ## Senate Work on Tax Bill Has Begun

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate - House conferees resume work today on the tax bill with the possibility that a compromise measure may be worked out by Wednesday.

This could mean the measure would be ready for President Johnson's signature by next week, opening the way for higher paychecks for the average taxpayer by mid-March.

The conferees are trying to iron out differences between the $11.2 billion tax cut passed by the House and the $11.9 billion reduction approved in the Senate.

Although the pace in committees is expected to pick up, Congress generally planned another light week.

The controversial civil rights bill—cornerstone with the tax cut of the Johnson administration's legislative program—was expected to arrive at the Senate's door today. The 11-part omnibus measure received 290-130 approval from the House last week.

A House banking subcommittee starts hearings today on President Johnson's housing bill. Robert C. Weaver, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, was called as the first witness. A Senate subcommittee begins work on it Wednesday.

A House Labor subcommittee scheduled the start of hearings on another Johnson program—a plan to institute double time for overtime in certain industries, a penalty designed to encourage employment of more workers rather than the use of overtime labor.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz was the leadoff witness for this measure.

Baseball and football magnates will be on hand today and Tuesday before a Senate Antitrust subcommittee which is considering a professional sports antitrust bill.

The Senate Rules Committee continues behind closed doors its probe into the doings of Bobby Baker, former secretary of the Senate majority.

On the House floor, the most important bill this week will be the $16.9 billion military procurement authorization bill coming up Thursday.

The Senate has nothing important scheduled for the floor and may be in recess several days this week.

State Library Share $529,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas may get as much as $529,000 a year in federal aid for library services and construction under a bill signed Tuesday by President Johnson.

Mrs. Merlin Moore, chairman of the Arkansas Library Commission, made the money estimate. She was in Washington with other library officials to watch signing of the bill.

The act authorizes an indefinite amount of money for improving library services and constructing new libraries. Mrs. Moore said library interests hope Congress will appropriate $20 million for services and $25 million for construction the first year.

The money would be allocated to the states under a formula which would give Arkansas $294,000 for services and $235,000 for construction. The money would have to be matched with state or local funds on a basis of three federal dollars for each state dollar.

Hoffa Wins Point in Tamper Trial

By GAVIN SCOTT

CHIATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —James R. Hoffa's defense won today a new chance to attack the testimony of the chief government witness in the Teamsters Union president's jury-tampering trial.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson granted a hearing to determine whether Edward G. Partin, a Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters official, acted illegally when he recorded telephone conversations with Hoffa.

The hearing, the judge said, will follow testimony in this trial—but will come before the case goes to the jury.

Thus, if the defense succeeds in throwing out Partin's testimony, it will throw out a major portion of the government case against Hoffa.

Partin gave testimony linking Hoffa and others on trial with him with alleged efforts to rig the Nashville jury which tried Hoffa on conspiracy charges in 1962.

The defense said the recorded telephone conversations, just prior to the start of the 1962 trial, resulted in Partin's being invited by Hoffa to Nashville. While there, Partin testified, he had Hoffa's confidence — and also made daily reports to the Justice Department.

The spokesman said Brooks was last seen on Feb. 12 wearing civilian clothes. He did not show up for duty the next day.

Local police have been called in to assist in the case but service spokesman said there was no evidence of foul play. They added there is no apparent connection between Brooks' disappearance and a missing staff car.

Clinic for Smokers Is Suggested

By ALTO NBLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A new kind of smokers' clinic—for people who enjoy and want to continue cigarettes—was suggested today by a chest specialist.

The clinics would teach how to smoke safely, without inhaling, said Dr. Alvan L. Barach of New York City.

He said one method is to take a puff of smoke into your mouth. Close your lips firmly. Then inhale air deeply through the nose. Then exhale — of course.

Dr. Barach told the New York State Medical Society, "There is no scientific evidence that non-inhaling smoking causes cancer of the lung" and other diseases.

"As physicians, we must be careful not to indict the non-inhaling smoker because excessive inhaling smoking is harmful, nor to support a war against enjoyment unless harm can be demonstrated in each individual case," he said.

Dr. Barach commented on a speech presented by Dr. Richard H. Overholt of Boston on "The Physician's Obligation to the Public Regarding Cigarette Smoking."

Dr. Overholt, of Tufts University and the Overholt Clinic, in his text declared the medical profession must be the leader in dissuading people from smoking because "the government cannot and will not be the enforcer."

Dr. Overholt said doctors should "convincingly advise relatives, friends and patients of the immediate and long-term ill effects of smoking" while avoiding "any Carrie Nation type of prohibition."

Dr. Overholt declared the "devastation" from smoking "is far greater than smallpox or the plague ever was."

Steel for Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Don Steel, 35, of Nashville filed Monday for the Feb. 22 election in which a successor to the late state Sen. Nathan G. Coulter will be picked. The state Senate seat is in the 6th district. Steel is a deputy prosecutor in the 9th Judicial District.

Hosting Taylor tonight in Jones Field House, the Bobcats depart from their grueling loop schedule to take on a tough A power.

Taylor, mighty monarch of rough District 7E, will certainly be no pushover in the fair of the Cat. 7E is down below Magnolia, and contains such small school basketball giants as Stephens and Waldo.

The Senior Girls' game will begin at 7:00, and the Boys' will begin at 8:00.

Card Players Want Some Pay Increases

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There probably isn't a player on the St. Louis Cardinals who can carry Stan Musial's bat, but there's a long line of volunteers ready to lift his pocketbook.

With the official March 1 opening of spring training less than two weeks off, not one of the Cardinal regulars has signed his 1964 baseball contract.

The players, most already marked for praise since they contributed heavily to the Cardinals' second-place finish last season, apparently are shooting at Musial's pocketbook. For when Musial retired, his $50,000 salary went back into the Cardinals' bank.

The only front-liners signed by the Cardinals are pitchers Lew Burdette, Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor, but they are being counted on mostly for spot duty or relief work. Still unsigned are the Big Three — Ernie Broglio, Curt Simmons and Bob Gibson — and No. 1 catcher, Tim McCarver.

The Cardinals' All-Star infield is unsigned from first baseman Bill White to second baseman Julian Javier to third baseman Ken Boyer to shortstop Dick Groat, and the top two outfielders, Curt Flood and Charlie James, still have not agreed to terms.

One outfield position is up for grabs—but the Cardinals took the first step toward what might be a solution to that problem by reacquiring Carl Warwick from the Houston Colts Monday in exchange for rookie outfielder Jim Beauchamp and Chuck Taylor, a minor league pitcher.

Warwick hit .247 for the Colts with seven homers and 47 runs batted in. Beauchamp was one of the Cardinals' bright prospects, hitting .337 at Tulsa in the Texas League. Taylor was 9-11 with a 3.75 earned run average at Tulsa.

Signing contracts Monday were pitchers Bud Daley, Stan Williams, Tom Metcalf and Pete Mikkelsen with the New York Yankees; pitchers Gary Bell, Sam McDowell and Gordon Seyfried with Cleveland; infielder Don Buford with the Chicago White Sox, and infielder Gene Alley with Pittsburgh.

Last place Baylor is last in attendance with 15,500 for six home games, while the Mustangs of Southern Methodist are leading with 50,209 persons for nine home games.

By BEN NOLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Villanova and DePaul, both selected for postseason tournaments, moved up in this week's Associated Press major-college basketball poll. The voting still is dominated by unbeaten UCLA followed by Michigan and Kentucky.

Duke and Oregon State also gained ground while Drake, the Missouri Valley Conference pace-setter, advanced to 10th place.

UCLA collected 35 first place votes and 376 points in the balloting by a special panel of 38 regional selectors. The Bruins beat Washington twice last week and upped their record to 21-0. Michigan had one first place vote and 320 points and Kentucky polled 299 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The Wolverines defeated Indiana 99-87 for a 17-2 record while Kentucky is 18-2, after whipping Mississippi State 65-59.

Duke's Blue Devils advanced one place to fourth with two first-place votes and 251 points. Duke is 17-3 after beating Virginia and Davidson.

Villanova moved up three places to fifth and DePaul climbed one notch to ninth. Villanova, 19-2 following victories over Duquesne and Canisius, was named as an at-large team to the NCAA tourney Monday. DePaul, 16-2 including last week's triumphs over Marquette and Western Ontario, accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Wichita remained sixth despite its 64-63 setback by Drake. Oregon State went from ninth to seventh following a 76-72 conquest of Seattle for a 21-3 record. Davidson fell from fourth to eighth. The Wildcats lost to Furman and Duke last week.

Drake replaced Vanderbilt in the Top Ten on the strength of its victory over Wichita and a 17-4 record. Vandy, seventh a week ago, lost two games last week, 75-71 to Georgia Tech in overtime and 64-62 to Tennessee.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-98-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Tough Action Against Mr. Finley Asked

By G. MILTON KELLY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., urged American League baseball today to get tough in its row with defiant Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics.

Finley is trying to move his club out of Kansas City in the face of counter-threats by the league to revoke his franchise and drive him out of baseball if he goes. Finley has retorted that he will sue if the league attempts any such crackdown.

Long spoke out in an interview in advance of hearings before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee which could bring Finley and American League President Joe Cronin in face to face now or later, although the subcommittee's prime interest has nothing to do with the row.

The subcommittee is conducting hearings on legislation which would grant uniform antitrust law exceptions to pro football, basketball and ice hockey as well as to baseball, which is the only one of the four sports now enjoying such exemptions.

The subcommittee's chairman, Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Cronin and National League President Warren Giles were the only scheduled witnesses, because Finley had not even answered invitations to testify. Hart said Finley would be granted a hearing if he did show up. Giles is not involved in the American League row.

Long, a subcommittee member, said baseball would sacrifice any right to antitrust law exemptions if it fails to enforce its expired ultimatum to Finley. It had given him until last Saturday midnight to arrange to keep the team in Kansas City or face possible loss of his franchise.

"If they don't have the authority, or the will power to regulate a member of their establishment who would so disregard the welfare of the sport and its fans," Long said, "it becomes obvious to me that baseball is a business and should be regulated as any other business. It definitely would be subject to the antitrust laws."

Oaklawn to Feature the Also Rans

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Eight 3- and 4-year-old horses, none of which has ever won more than two races, will compete in the $3,800 feature at Oaklawn Park Tuesday.

Rated as a strong contender is J. C. Pollard's Goer, a four-year-old son of Rejected and That's My Gal, who will be seeking his third victory.

Goer, withdrawn from an opening day race, will be making his second start of the year, having been unplaced in one race at the Fair Grounds. Billy Phelps will have the mount.

Regarded as the main threat are Foy P. Norris' Little Ping, who will be ridden by Larry Spraker; Steve Ippolito's Binal and G. E. Galloway's Pleasant Pasture. Little Ping and Pleasant Pasture will share equal top-weight of 124 pounds, three more than assigned to Goer.

Completing the medium field are August Muckler's Backstop, Winston Neil's Dancing Brave, Joe Shaver's Kathy's pride and Robert Lerner's Some Other Time.

Except for a mile and 70-yard nightcap, the eight race card is made up of sprints.

In Monday's feature, Blaze Starr took command at the top of the stretch and won by a head over the favored Big Joe. W. H. Bishop's four-year-old Blaze Starr, ridden by Robert Nono, paid $17.40, $5.60 and $3.60.

Big Joe paid $3.20 and $3, and Gay Revolve, edged by a neck, paid $3.60. Blaze Starr covered the six- furlong distance in 1:10 4-5.

Hubbs Might Have Made Cubs Stronger

Last of a series of team prospects for 1964, written under the manager's own byline

By BOB KENNEDY

Chicago Cubs

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Until I learned about Ken Hubbs' tragic death in an airplane crash I was convinced that the Cubs would be stronger this year.

Hubbs had his whole big league career in front of him and he was a fine second baseman. Last year, he and Andre Rodgers developed into one of the best keystone combinations in the league.

I haven't even begun to think about a replacement for Hubbs. We'll just have to wait and see what happens in spring training.

I'm confident that Ernie Banks can come back. He's only 32 and he's fully recovered from his illness which robbed him of his strength and vitality.

Banks' sickness was a sort of a mystery at first but finally doctors diagnosed it as sub-clinical mumps. Even in his worst year, he still hit 18 home runs and was third on the club in runs batted in with 65.

I expect improvement, too, from several other players who fell down, namely Rodgers and catcher Dick Bertell.

Don't be fooled by our seventh place finish last year. It was the best season the Cubs had in 17 years. We finished two games above .500 and that's probably a record for a seventh place club. We were 23 games better than we were in 1962.

Pitching was the No. 1 reason why we won more games. Dick Ellsworth, our 22-game winner, had a 2.10 ERA, second only to Sandy Koufax. He's finally come into his own. Larry Jackson had only a 14-18 record but he had lots of tough luck. With any breaks he could have won 20. He was sixth in the league with a 2.55 ERA.

Other starters include Bob Buhl, Paul Toth, Glenn Hobbie and Cal Koonce. We're going to give newcomers Dick Scott and Fred Norman, who set a record in the Eastern League by whiffing 258 batters in only 198 innings, a real shot at a starting berth.

Next to the pitching, I'd have to say Ron Santo was as responsible as any player for our good season. He is the equal of any third baseman in the league on defense and ranks on the same plane with Ken Boyer of the Cards on offense. He was our leading run producer and steady hitter.

As a team, we've got more speed and better pitching than we had last year. If Billy Cowan, a young speed demon from Salt Lake City, can make it in center field, we will have the fastest outfield in the majors. Billy Williams, a great all-around player, will be back in field, and Lou Brock, who developed into a star last year, may be switched from center to right. Ellis Burton, who did such an outstanding job for us last year, is still very much in the running for a regular outfield berth.

Cowan has the best chance of any of the rookies to win a regular berth. He hit .324 at Salt Lake City last year and led the Pacific Coast League in runs batted in with 120. Other good looking youngsters include Jimmy Stewart, a shortstop, and bonus first baseman John Bocabella, who can really hit the long ball.

Providence Accepts First Bid From NCAA

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

And just why did Providence, the National Invitation Tournament defending champion, turn down a bid by the NIT and accept one from the National Collegiate Athletic Association?

Well, athletic director, the Rev. A. B. Begley candidly pointed out, "It's the first time we had a chance to accept." Which means it's the first time the NCAA had ever picked Providence to fill one of the 10 at-large spots in its national tournament.

"We accepted the NCAA invitation," Begley said, "because we belong to the NCAA and it's our association championship."

The Friars, who had some early season uneasiness but now appear to have found the formula, were one of nine teams picked by the NCAA. Three more accepted bids to the NIT Monday as the two groups began their selections.

In addition to Providence, the NCAA selected defending champion Chicago Loyola, Villanova, Creighton, Texas Western, Louisville, Oregon State, Utah State and Seattle.

One more NCAA at-large team remains to be picked for the long string of eliminations that culminate in the national tournament at Kansas City March 20-21. The other 15 spots go to conference champions.

The NIT, which will be played in New York's Madison Square Garden March 12-21, picked DePaul, 16-2; Pitt, 14-6; and New York University, 11-5. Nine others will be selected later.

Providence, 17-3 after Monday night's 95-75 triumph over Scranton, and Villanova, ranked fifth nationally at 19-2, are in the NCAA Eastern regional along with Temple, Middle Atlantic champion, and the champions of the Yankee, Southern, Ivy and Atlantic Coast conferences.

Loyola, 15-5, and Louisville, 14-6, are in the Midwest with the conference champs from the Mid America, Ohio Valley, Southeastern and Big Ten.

The Midwest has Creighton, 19-5, Texas Western, 19-2, and winners from the Southwest, Missouri Valley, Big Eight and one more at-large team to be named.

The Far West has Oregon State, 21-3, Utah State, 17-3, Seattle, 16-4, and winners from the Western Athletic Conference, the Big Six and the West Coast Conference.

Regional first-round eliminations will be held in Philadelphia, Evanston, Ill., Dallas and Eugene, Ore. both with first round byes are the champs from the Atlantic Coast, the Big Eight, the Southeastern, the Big Ten, the West Coast and the Big Six.

Regional championships are scheduled March 13-14 in Raleigh, N.C., Minneapolis, Wichita, Kan., and Corvallis, Ore.

Providence, which won only four of its first seven, celebrated its selection with its 13th straight triumph in the decision over Scranton. John Thompson and Jim Stone each had 25 points for the rampaging Friars who were never in serious trouble.

Probably the top attraction was Kentucky's 104-73 home triumph over Vanderbilt. Cotton Nash played one of the finest games of his career in sparking the victory that put the Wildcats in sole possession of first place with a 9-2 Southeastern record. Kentucky, ranked third in the nation, is 19-2 over-all.

Nash scored 32 points, stole the ball a dozen times, played a fine defensive game and controlled the offensive rebounds.

Sign With Porks

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Haulmark, all-State defensive guard at Russellville High School in 1963, has signed a letter of intent to attend the University of Arkansas.

Arkansas defensive coach Wilson Matthews said Haulmark, a 196-pounder, is "one of the finest guard prospects in the state in recent years."
